NICK MYDLACH

What is your role at Taureau Group, and how long have you been here?

I'm an Associate with Taureau Group and joined the team in early 2020. My role includes managing and supporting all aspects of the M&A process. On the sell-side, I am involved with the initial pitch, financial analysis, marketing and due diligence through close. On the buy-side, I am responsible for research, outreach to potential targets, and assisting in due diligence through close.

Before working at Taureau Group, what was the most interesting job you've ever had?

During college, I spent a summer as a job coach working with mentally challenged individuals on-site at their places of employment.

What has been your most memorable deal at Taureau Group?

Every deal is unique, and all are memorable for their own reasons. If pressed to comment about just one - an industrial services deal is one I won't soon forget. Everything came together very smoothly and quickly based on our diligent work.

Describe the culture at Taureau Group.

The culture at Taureau Group is a healthy blend of the following: entrepreneurial, client-focused, Midwestern values, team-oriented, energetic.

What's something about yourself that may surprise us?

I'm a bit of a music enthusiast. I tend to be the guy that wants to connect to your Bluetooth speaker and pick every song (I won't actually though). I'm also big on seeing live music - Milwaukee has a number of terrific venues. A couple recent shows I saw before shutdowns include Black Pumas and Mandolin Orange (both at The Pabst Theater). Highly recommend!

Where is your hometown?

New Berlin, WI

What is your favorite book?

Going based on what I read most, Dr. Seuss...Joking aside, I enjoy markets-related literature, and the last few years I've consumed more podcasts than books. One podcast I've enjoyed the last couple years is "Value Investing with Legends" by Columbia Business School. A lot of accomplished investors are featured and interesting stories are shared.

What is your favorite quote?

"Enjoy the ride."

What do you like to do in your free time?

I like to stay active and spend as much time as I can outdoors. Running, hiking, biking and snowboarding are some of my go-to activities.
